

ARNIE Selection Policy

For a publication to be eligible to be tagged ARNIE in DataSpecs® Governance Edition and be accessible to the www.ARNIEdocs.info search function, the material must meet these standards.

Types of materials eligible for online submission

- Publications produced by, within, for, and about schools and districts that report the results, methodology, or use of research, evaluation, and/or assessment
- Publications authored by research, evaluation, and/or assessment practitioners within the schools and districts or equivalently credentialed professionals associated with them or contracted by them.
- Postsecondary practicum papers, theses, and dissertations, appropriately directed by credentialed higher education sponsors, conducted in the schools and districts.
- Publications even if their findings are previously or later published in whole or part in a professional journal or presented as professional conference papers or proceedings
- A journal article if its distribution does not violate the journal's copyright and its access through ARNIE will enhance its use by education practitioners
- Any publication that meets the eligibility requirements for the annual AERA Division H Publication Awards competition
- ESPTiminars and accompanying papers

Types of materials not accepted through the online submission system

- ARNIE is not a curriculum content sharing site. Lesson plans and references should be shared on other sites.

All submitters must hold the copyright to the publication or be an authorized representative of the publishing agency. Publications with multiple authors are accepted when one author or the issuing agency submits the publication. Publications may be submitted by:

- Individuals,
- Organizations/Agencies, or
- Publishers.

Submission requirements

- All submitters using the online submission system must grant ARNIE rights to distribute the full text of the submitted material to the public. The permission to index and display the content, once granted, provides perpetual access to the content for ARNIE users.

- Full text of all pages of a document or article and indicated attachments or tables should be provided or omissions noted.
- The submitter is encouraged to provide an abstract.
- The submitted publication should contain all identifying information (title of the article or document, author(s) name, and date of publication, etc.) on the first page or title page to ensure those who download copies receive everything.
- If it applies, conference information should also appear on the first page (conference organization, title, location, and dates).
